On the Blink

In recent years The Laurel & Hardy Museum of Harlem, Georgia, has been bringing in tourists from around the world to share their appreciation of the Boys. When they first opened they sent out a call for help and Sons everywhere responded by sending in memorabilia to be put on display. Now, they've sent out another call for help. Their furnace needs fixing and they have to raise $5500. If you can send in even a small donation, you can help the Museum stay open year round. Mail your donation to:

What a Great Gift!

There will be no re-gifting of this present! Lou has put together a great line-up for the December meeting. It just wouldn't be Christmas without seeing the Boys trying to sell Christmas trees in Big Business. But wait, there's more! We have

Ethel, The Chimp, dancing her way into our hearts and Our Gang rockin' the Auld Lang Syne in Our Gang

Follies of 1938. Plus the never-before-seen-at-a-

New Book

Those of us who have been attending conventions know that Irv Hyatt has been researching the WWII victory caravans for years. He finally has the book assembled. It's a self-published effort capturing interesting details from the famous victory bond celebrity caravans that traversed the country. The Boys were prominent players, so Irv has paid special attention to them. Here's Irv's write-up:

"In order to show my appreciation to all the "Laurel and Hardy" fans, I can sell a number of these books during this "pre-order" time at a 35% price reduction, through the email address listed below, but only until November 30, 2013. The Ultimate (color) Hollywood Victory Caravan Scrapbook, normally $69.95, is available direct for only $45.00 plus $6.00 priority shipping (save $24.95 off list - 35% below normal price). The (black & white) Hollywood Victory Caravan Scrapbook, normally $32.95, is also available direct for only $20.00 + $6.00 postage (save $11.95 off list - 35% off normal price). At over 340 pages, The Hollywood Victory Caravan Scrapbook contains many items from my personal collection. It also reproduces the Press Book used for the caravan stops, programs reproduced from Washington, D.C. (opening night), Cleveland, Boston, and San Francisco (the last show). Stars' autographs are also included from Oliver Hardy's and Bob Hope's personal copies of the programs. Orders can be placed at HVCScrapbook@aol.com. An invoice will be sent for payment through Paypal and the book will ship immediately after release. Include your desired inscription.

Busy Bodies

Bram Reijnhoudt, a long-time Son from the Netherlands sent a note about an interesting L&H related clip. "Here is a clip from a Dutch tv-program about a traditional game called 'tipelen; (pronounce: tee-puh-luhn'). The people of Sint Jacobiparochie claim this village is the only place in the Netherlands where this age-old game is still regularly played. They want the game to be included in the Unesco list of Intangible Heritage! We know it, of course, as 'pee-wee'. "<http://youtu.be/hmbMReuNV9M>

Here's our very own Steve Rugh trying to hit the pee wee at the Manchester Convention in 2012. He's got the form – just not the distance to be a world-class competitor. Sorry, Steve.
